

LUTINDZI

Lutindzi (siswati), coleochloa setifera

A Gone Rural Signature Collection

The Lutindzi Story

Up on the mountains of Swaziland numerous granite rock formations can be found. It is in this area that the Lutindzi grass grows. Lutindzi can be found across Southern Africa including Madagascar and typically grows on and around rock formations.

It is this relationship between grass and stone that the Gone Rural Lutindzi range explores. Rock shapes, cracks and colours translated into products with the Lutindzi grass.

The Lutindzi Rock Basket

Unique asymmetrical baskets are based on the boulders of Malalotja. The boulders are flecked by lichen and cracked by the elements.

Each basket is made slightly different depending on how the weaver interprets the shape.
